Assignment

Article 2

1. The publisher hereby non-exclusively licences to Stichting FEMU the graphical reproduction rights in its repertoire within the meaning of article 1 under A and B of this agreement. This licence therefore relates to both the existing and the future repertoire it shall acquire. Stichting FEMU accepts this licence of the graphical reproduction rights.
 - a. The assignment does not apply for the inclusion of musical works in music books and text publications in books and magazines. This part of the graphical reproduction rights is strictly reserved to the publisher and is not licensed through Stichting FEMU on a collective basis.
 - b. The assignment is on a non-exclusive basis for agreements with Internet Service Providers (ISPs) or Digital Service Providers (DSPs) and non-end users such as Lyricfind "and" Gracenote.
 - c. All other schemes are collective schemes and transferred to Stichting FEMU on a non-exclusive basis.
2. The graphical reproduction rights in the publisher's existing repertoire, described in paragraph 1 are hereby licensed for the repertoire that has already been acquired by Stichting FEMU. With regard to the publisher's future repertoire, the graphical reproduction rights shall each time be licensed by operation of law the moment the graphical reproduction rights of a work have been assigned and transferred, whether or not in advance, to the publisher.
3. Stichting FEMU has thus acquired the non-exclusive right, to exercise or cause the exercise in the Netherlands of the graphical reproduction rights assigned and transferred to it, subject to the restriction laid down in Article 2.1a and Article 2.1b.
4. Notwithstanding the provisions of this Article 2, the publisher strictly reserves the right to enter into direct agreements with third parties for the exploitation of the graphical reproduction rights in its repertoire in any part of the world including the Netherlands.

Mandate and power of attorney

Article 3

1. If and insofar as the future repertoire as referred to in article 2 might not be assignable or transferable in advance, the publisher hereby grants Stichting FEMU, to the exclusion of any other party including himself, the irrevocable mandate and power of attorney subject to the right of substitution, to exercise the graphical reproduction rights in such future repertoire anywhere in the world in his own name. Stichting FEMU accepts this irrevocable mandate and power of attorney with regard to the future repertoire.
2. The issuing of song texts and music in paper form (or having such texts issued) is an exception to the mandate and power of attorney as described in paragraph 1.

Exploitation and enforcement

Article 4

1. Stichting FEMU shall exploit and enforce the graphical rights in the repertoire, either under its own name or not, in the territory defined in article 2 paragraph 3 and shall perform or cause the performance of any and all legal acts relating thereto (commitment to make a reasonable effort).
2. Solely in accordance with the terms of this agreement, Stichting FEMU shall therefore grant or refuse a licence to distribute the works of the repertoire, determine the conditions for granting such licence, be entitled to take legal action against any infringement of the graphical reproduction rights, and perform or cause the performance of any and all acts, both judicially and extra-judicially, which the publisher would be entitled to perform in the absence of this agreement.
3. If new exploitation formats are developed other than those already stated explicitly in article 1 paragraph A1 subparagraph b to d and paragraph A2 of this agreement, Stichting FEMU may on the grounds of article 1 enter into non-exclusive arrangements for these formats and/or issue licences. Stichting FEMU shall inform the publisher beforehand about any such new arrangements and/or licences that it shall be using as the basis for fee collection.

Distribution

Article 5

1. Stichting FEMU undertakes with due observance of the relevant articles, rules and decisions lawfully taken by Stichting FEMU to distribute the revenues it receives to the participants entitled to a share thereof.

2. Stichting FEMU's obligation as referred to in paragraph 1 remains valid for as long as the publisher, by virtue of publishing agreements with regard to the repertoire, is entitled to the publisher's share of the available revenues on account of the graphical reproduction rights in the repertoire.
3. Complaints concerning distributions made in any year will be accepted at the latest on 31 December of the second year following the calendar year in which the relevant distribution was made. After this period, the publisher's right to complain with regard to the relevant distribution shall have expired.
4. If Stichting FEMU has established that a complaint is well-founded, it will only be obliged to pay back the deficit to which Stichting FEMU has actually received the general or specific licence in question.
5. Except in the event of wilful intent or gross negligence on the part of Stichting FEMU itself, it shall never be liable for any form of damage or loss, under any name whatsoever other than provided for in paragraph 4.

Notification of repertoire

Article 6

1. Publisher registers the works at Buma/Stemra and Stichting FEMU has access to the documentation through the so-called 'Buma/Stemra online titelcatalogus'. Through this tool Stichting FEMU can determine which publisher administers the mechanical reproduction rights and the performing rights. Based on that source information Stichting FEMU will do the royalty distribution for graphical reproduction rights for work-by-work distributions schemes. If such information from the 'Buma/Stemra online titelcatalogus' is not available for FEMU or if FEMU does not have the proper royalty-split between 2 or more publishers, these publishers will be contacted for more details.
2. Stichting FEMU should be notified if the graphical reproduction rights are excluded for a specific work or for specific works and Stichting FEMU shall remove such specific works from its database immediately upon notification from the publisher.

Warranty obligation

He agrees to indemnify Stichting FEMU against any third party claim in this respect against the consequences that such claims may have for Stichting FEMU provided that such claim is (i) as a result of an adverse judgment in a court of competent jurisdiction, or (ii) has been settled with the prior written approval of the publisher which shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed.
